Modular Lounge

Designed by Mac Stopa

Tapa

The contemporary office needs spaces with an informal lounge atmosphere where employees are able to hold spontaneous meetings in small groups or for just relaxing. This requirement is met by Tapa – a system of modular poufs with organic geometric forms designed by Mac Stopa.

This unique product combines a striking look with clever functionality. A solution whose basic element is an island consisting of poufs that turn on a pivot, Tapa combines the functionality of a sofa, chair, side table, and stool into one unique modular system.
